Villere, Favre Top Prize Winners In Eagle's Big Subscription Contest

Crowning seven and a half weeks of intense interest and strenuous effort on the part of contestants in the Hancock County Eagle "Everybody Wins" prize subscription contest, the race came to a smashing climax last Saturday afternoon with Miss Barbara Ann Villere driving home the new 1954 Ford.

From every point of view the big subscription drive just closed was a huge success. The race started off with a rush and forged ahead steadily each week at an unprecedented pace, but with the best of good feeling prevailing at all times among the contestants.

Horatio Favre won the second prize of $750 and Keith Tonkel grabbed off third place, a major share of the bonus money.

It was an understood fact at the beginning, of course, that all could not win first place, but everybody did win something commensurate with the time and effort expended in this aptly named "Everybody Wins" prize contest.

Moreover, our present prospective advertisers won by virtue of the fact that they now have a vastly increased audience to read their regular offerings of dependable merchandise and services presented through our columns.

It is estimated that there are four members of each family in every home who have access to our newspaper; the Hancock County Eagle now reaches several thousand more potential customers for local merchants than heretofore.

The general public won also by reason of the fact that they have a stronger, more viable paper, destined to become even stronger in the very near future—to represent their best interest in this area; and, if need be, to fight their battles for any worthy cause.

And, too, this newspaper won to the same degree by having more fully paid in advance circulation coverage in its field—the only kind of circulation that really counts—thus enabling us to render even greater service to both readers and advertisers in all matters pertaining to civic betterment and the upbuilding of this vast, fertile area.

To these new readers, and to our old ones as well, whose interest and patronage made this subscription drive the tremendous success it proved to be, we are indeed grateful and indebted.

Fort the trust implied by advancing your subscription one or more years we shall strive to merit that trust and to serve you to the best of our ability. On behalf of the newspaper staff we extend our most sincere thanks.

Contest judges who tabulated the final votes last Saturday noon included Lambert T. Boyd Jr., President of the Chamber of Commerce, Fred Herlihy, Postmaster, Joe B. Burrow, Cashier, Merchants Bank and Trust Co., A. C. Mitchell, Clerk of Courts, and T. T. Robin, owner of Globe Laundry.

Edwardsville School District Annexed To Bay St. Louis Municipal Schools

The outside territory lying adjacent to the City of Bay St. Louis and outside the town of Waveland known as the Edwardsville School District was added to the Bay St. Louis Municipal School District as added territory for school purposes only on June 6 by the County School Board and approved recently by the State Department of Education.

This territory is now a part of the Bay St. Louis Public School system. This action of the County School Board will necessitate the setting up of transportation by the Board of Trustees of the Bay St. Louis Public Schools for those pupils living in this added territory and attending the Public School.

There will be a bus for the white pupils who will attend Bay High School and one for the colored pupils from the Waveland Colored School and all outside territory, living one mile or more from the Valena C. Jones School. Two new buses of 54 passenger capacity have been purchased by the Board of Trustees of the Bay St. Louis Public School one for the white pupils that will make two trips and one for the colored that will make one trip. The pupils of this outside territory have been attending Bay St. Louis Public Schools on a tuition basis and have been transported by the county. Under the laws of the special session of the legislature of 1953 all territory in each county must be within some school district to enable the State to pay for education of pupils in such districts on the teacher unit basis.

The Bay St. Louis Public Schools will therefore take over the transportation of these pupils in this added territory who attend the Public Schools.

The State makes no provision for transportation within the Municipality; hence, there will be no transportation of pupils within the city limits of Bay St. Louis.

YOUTH CENTER FUND DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

The annual fund drive for the Bay St. Louis Youth Center is underway this month.

The goal to be met is $1,200. This amount is necessary for operation of the center, to give the youth of the community a place to meet and play together under supervised direction.

Mrs. Richard Shadoin has been named chairman of the fund drive, with Mrs. George Seuzeneau in charge of publicity and Mrs. Bennie Nobles assisting Mrs. Shadoin.

Contributions should be mailed to Mrs. Shadoin or Mrs. Nobles.

Cardinal Valeri Dedicates Seminary At Pine Hills Tuesday

Valerio Cardinal Valeri, one of the highest ranking prelates in the Catholic Church, Tuesday dedicated the new Our Lady of the Snows Seminary in Pass Christian before an assembly which included three bishops, 150 priests and brothers and about 300 visitors.

A non-segregated audience of white and Negro participants heard the cardinal bestow his blessing on the former luxury hotel, Pine Hills, which was built prior to the depression and purchased by the Oblate Fathers of the Midwest in May 1953.

The cardinal officiated later at a Pontifical high mass celebrated in the beautiful flower-bedecked beamed chapel overlooking the waters of the Bay of St. Louis.

Three members of the American hierarchy also participated in the ceremonies: the Most Rev. Richard O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez; the Most Rev. Francis R. Cotton, bishop of the diocese of Owensboro, Ky.; and the Most Rev. Maurice J. Schneiders, auxiliary Bishop of Lafayette, La.

Traveling with the cardinal were St. Joseph Rouseau, Elia Gambori and Salvador Canal of Rome.

Following the mass, a banquet was held for visiting clergy and the cardinal. Next Sunday the new seminary will be open to the public.

The Pine Hills establishment was erected at a cost of over a million dollars, with $200,000 worth of furnishings. It was closed during the depression and was later used by the armed forces during World War II. It is a five-story building with tile baths. The lobby is ceramic tiled and beamed with cypress. Spacious grounds surround the property which extend to the waters of the Bay.

The first contingent of oblates arrived on June 10, 1953. The school year began last October with 59 scholastics.

Anthrax Confined to Section South of Highway 90; 900 Head Vaccinated

"With the vaccination of over 900 head of cattle south of highway 90 since Saturday noon, the anthrax outbreak is at this time being held in that area, and we hope to have it under control," Dr. Vernon D. Chadwick, State Veterinarian from Jackson, said this morning.

Chadwick is making his temporary headquarters in the Hancock County Agricultural Agent's office.

"We believe we have every reason to feel that the outbreak is being brought under control since up until this time we have not had a case diagnosed as anthrax of a single animal that has died north of highway 90."

"As fast as we hear of an animal dying, the body is posted by one of the veterinarians working on the program in the county and sent to the State Laboratory in Jackson," the state veterinarian added.

Also encouraging is the fact that losses south of Highway 90 are greatly reduced; in fact, he said, the loss is "practically nil."

County Agent Howard Simmons has requested any person who loses an animal, either north or south of highway 90, notify the office so that the animal can be posted and Mr. Johnson, the inspector, can see that the animal is destroyed.

"Mr. Johnson is in the county to see that all dead animals are burned. He has requested that no one bury any dead livestock, as it is known that the anthrax germ eventually will work back to the top of the ground," Simmons.

"The disease is highly contagious to both animals and human beings; a very precaution possible is being taken. The County Agent's office is headquarters for the work and any person requiring any information can contact any of the workers at the Agricultural Center Building or by phone, 125."

"The cooperation of every person in Hancock County is necessary to bring this outbreak under control," the county agent pointed out.

Health Officer Says No Anthrax Danger In Drinking Milk

"The problem for the Health Department and all of the personnel is to prevent any milk produced in an Anthrax infected district to reach the processing plant and your Health Department will not permit any milk that has the slightest chance of containing anthrax germs to be delivered to any processing plant," Dr. C. M. Shipp, County Health Officer, told the EAGLE yesterday.

Dr. Shipp said people were constantly phoning the Health Department in regard to the anthrax situation, wanting to know whether or not to drink milk or eat meat.

The health officer said that milk is "the most essential article of our diet."

"Certainly we must have milk," he said. "The health officer advised drinking pasteurized milk. 'If we use only pasteurized milk, we are protected from other poisonous germs that can kill, probably not as fast as Anthrax, but just as surely.'"

He said that anthrax bacilli can change their anatomical structure. This physiological change permits the germ to hang on to life with rare tenacity. "When this change is made the pasteurizing process cannot kill it, for it requires more heat than the milk plant can give to do this," Dr. Shipp said.

However, he said, anthrax is a violent disease. "If the cow gets infected, in a matter of a few hours she will dry up. In fact, she probably will be dead before she has a chance to dry up," Dr. Shipp added.

"As far as meat is concerned," Dr. Shipp continued, the cooking process requires a heat far beyond 212 degrees temperature. Besides the sterilizing process in the cooking, no animals from an infected area can be slaughtered and offered for sale for human consumption," the health officer said.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE TO BE LAUNCHED BY LEGION AUXILIARY

Plans for a membership campaign to give the American Legion Auxiliary increased strength for activities during the year ahead has been announced by Mrs. Russell Elliott, unit president.

The campaign will be directed by Mrs. Gordon Romanoff, members chairman, assisted by a committee composed of Mrs. Russell Elliott, Mrs. Bert Estapa, Mrs. Leroy Luke, Mrs. James Pfeiffer.

A large corps of workers will carry personal invitations to eligible women. Eligible for membership are wives, mothers, sisters, and daughters of members of the American Legion and those of persons who gave their lives in the World War or Korean Conflict or who have died since honorable discharge from war service.

Women who have served in the Armed Forces in either World War are eligible for both Legion and Auxiliary membership.

The Auxiliary offers these women an opportunity to carry on the type of patriotic service given by their families in time of war and to aid the disabled veterans and veterans families.

Emergency March of Dimes Set For August 16-31

The staggering cost of patient care and a two point polio prevention program have created a crisis that only Emergency March of Dimes can solve.

Mrs. Theo Tudury, chairman of the Hancock County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, declared today.

"That is why the special drive has been set for Aug. 16-31 in Hancock County, Mrs. Tudury said.

The chapter chairman pointed out that the total raised in last January's March of Dimes was not enough to continue payment of patient aid bills.

"The situation is that the requirements of patient aid bills in Hancock County have not drained our treasury dry," Mrs. Tudury said. "However, less fortunate areas where epidemics have occurred are out of money already and require immediate outside help. We would ask for similar aid ourselves under the same circumstances."

"Through the National Foundation, all polio patients who need help get it, no matter where they live."

The current financial crisis could impair the new polio prevention program too, Mrs. Tudury said. The program includes evaluation of the trial polio vaccine given last spring, and purchase of large quantities of gamma globulin, the temporary preventive.

Although Hancock County so far this summer is an area of comparatively normal polio incidence, there are hundreds of communities across the country where funds for the care of polio patients are exhausted, Mrs. Tudury explained.

"The situation affects us locally, however, because of widespread national polio prevention program may be impaired, because of widespread national polio incidence proves very costly, she added."

"Nationally, there were more polio patients the first half of this year than ever before for this period," she said. "Many of them—particularly those in iron lungs—depend on the March of Dimes for every breath they draw. The staggering cost of patient aid added to the unusually heavy expense of a polio prevention program—for which there is so much hope—has exhausted March of Dimes funds collected last January."

"We of Hancock County want to do all we can to help out in this nationwide emergency," Mrs. Tudury said. "There is no telling when we might need help quickly."

Volunteers who will help in the drive are asked to call Mrs. Theo Tudury today at 857.

BAY BRIDGE TOLLS NET $615,144.23 DURING FIRST YEAR

Toll collections for the first year's business on the Bay St. Louis bridge, reached $615,144.23.

The bridge, built at a total cost slightly in excess of $9,000,000, was opened to traffic last August.

According to highway department director T. C. Robbins, collection for the 12 months of operation, July 1954, was the highest period. Second highest collections came in the first month the bridge was opened last year and ran to $60,180.79.

July's total was $62,424.38 and brought the collections to within $33,400 of what traffic experts had estimated the toll would be for the first year.

Traffic engineers, in estimating the flow of traffic, which determined the proposed and then actual toll charges, along with data having to do with interest on construction bonds, estimate toll collections for the year ending next July 30 will run to $589,860.

Month by month collections, starting with last August, were as follows: August $60,180.79; September $48,940.86; October $47,904.72; November $43,798.52; December $43,896.31; January (1954) $46,197.05; February $46,614.05; March $51,570.88; April $51,465.09; May $53,635.75; June $58,516.01 and July $62,424.38.

All funds collected are daily deposited with the Hancock bank, bridge trustee. Toll collection and maintenance are paid out of highway department funds, Robbins said.

Homes For Vets To Be Built In Highland Park

Financing for 35 GI homes under the new bill signed recently by President Eisenhower has been arranged for construction purposes by the owners of Highland Park Subdivision.

The subdivision, situated on Dubar Ave., met specifications required by the Army, and in excess of $250,000 has been allocated for construction.

In the new housing bill, veterans of World War II and Korea are eligible for such loans, with no down payment and 30 years to repay, with interest rates set at 4 1/2 per cent.

The Owners of Highland Park Subdivision plan to construct two and three bedroom homes to sell for $8950 and $10,250, respectively. Monthly payments are set at $45.35 and $50.94.

Purchase of these same home may be made by non-veterans with the same monthly terms and a down payment of 5 per cent of the purchase price.

Building sites will measure 60 ft. by 130 ft. and houses will be of either frame or concrete block construction. Dantagan Realty Co. of Bay St. Louis are agents for the subdivision.

Gex Clarifies Local Fishing Boundaries

The dividing line for fresh and salt water fishing set recently as 100 feet north of US Highway applies only to water north of bridges that are a part of US 90 and which cross the Bay of St. Louis, the Back Bay of Biloxi and the Pascagoula River, Walter Gex Jr., president of the State Seafood Commission, told the EAGLE Monday.

Gex clarified the ruling at the request of the EAGLE after some controversy arose as to whether the line applied to only water in specific areas or all water lying south of US 90.

Gex said that the Mississippi Game and Fish Commission had agreed that a point 100 feet north of bridges on Highway 90 across Bay St. Louis, Biloxi Back Bay and Pascagoula river should be the line for salt water fishing. All fishing 100 feet north of these bridges is designated as fresh water. The ruling did not include any other bodies of water.

"The edict did not include any other bodies of water, and fishing in such waters as Mulatto Bayou, Pearl River, etc., will remain on the same status as they were prior to the edict, whether north or south of the highway," Gex said.

He added that a meeting will be called shortly for the purpose of further designating fresh from salt water fishing grounds.

"It should be understood that anyone fishing with live bait and a slaughter pole in any parts of these three bodies of water is privileged to do so if they are native of the State. Fishing licenses are required only for non-residents," Gex concluded.

The crosses marking each grave were placed upon the new sites.

Seventy-four graves were moved. The new cemetery of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart is situated on school-owned ground at the corner of Hancock and Booker.

Mrs. Thomas N. Karl, left, poses proudly with the new Frigidaire electric range she won in a contest at Wilcox Appliance Co. With her are Miss Shirley Miller and D. E. Wilcox, owner of the firm.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED BY LEGION FOR COMING YEAR

Special and regular Committees for the coming year were named by Commander Sidney L. Bourgeois at the meeting of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 on Tuesday. Many of the members had requested that they be named on specific committees for which they felt they were particularly qualified. Bourgeois stated.

Committees and members named were as follows:

Rehabilitation: Laurent Dickson, Raymond Traub, Lucas Pucheu, James Fullingame.

Legal Committee: Joseph Benveniste, Dan M. Russell Jr. and Walter James Phillips.

Blood Bank: John Rutherford Jr., Nchus Rhodes and Warren Traub.

Adult Entertainment: Frank Taconi, Tom Bressler, Arthur Louacano, Fred Fayard Sr., Theo Tudury and Lucien Kidd.

Auxiliary Liaison: Gordon Romanoff, Russell Elliott and Frank Taconi.

Justices: Gerald Price Sr., Ed Arceneaux Sr. and Laurent Dickson.

Building Committee: John Rutherford Jr., Douglas Bourgeois, George Horton, Earl Fayard, Nelius Rhodes Carl Heitzmann, Roland Lafontaine and Ed Nease.

Club: Bert Estapa, James Pfeiffer, Andy Becker and Bernard Farrelly.

Member Entertainment and Refreshments: Bert Estapa, Francis Poolson, Clois Dedeaux, Warren Buehler and Russell Elliott.

Americanism: Fred Fayard, Gen. Louis Guerre, Vincent Laguer, Claiborne Ladner, Johnson Shaw Jr., Lucien Kidd, Phillip Hayes and Raymond Nelson.

Names of members of the Legion's Emergency Relief Committee are not made public. Any veteran or dependent may contact this committee by seeing Andy Becker, who will notify the Committee. The committee is empowered to give immediate relief when it is found that circumstances justify it.

Relief is not restricted to members of the local post or to any veteran organization.

GULF PLANNING TRY IN HARDROCK REGION

Gulf Refining Co. has entered the wildest drilling play in the hardrock country of northeast Mississippi with the staking of its Union County Wildcat, the Basden et al No. 1, sec. 20-7s-5-e, southeast of New Albany.

Drilling operations are expected to begin soon.

Honolulu Oil Corp. is running electrical log in its Calhoun County wildcat, the D. R. Davis No. 2, sec. 27-12s-1e with the total depth thought to be near 8,300 feet.

Coring operations to present depth have been disappointing and unless electrical log detects possible producing zones the wildcat will be abandoned.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

BY HOWARD F. SIMMONS
Hancock County Agent

Not just hay, but quality hay is vital to a successful dairy program. Farmers can do a better job of handling and curing and have a better quality hay.

Don't let your hay crop get too far into maturity before cutting it. Then don't let it lie in the mow swath until it is burned out by the sun and loses its green color and leaves.

Seneca lespedeza should be cut when it reaches around 15 to 16 inches. It should be left two or three hours in the mow swath, then raked into windrows and either baled or hauled in the next day.

For best quality, Johnson grass should be cut for hay when the first blooms appear. It should be handled carefully and put up before it gets burned up by the sun.

For more information on saving quality hay, see your local county agent.

DAIRY

Mississippi dairymen have some obstacles to overcome before they can make dairying as profitable here as it is in some older dairy production states of the midwest. They must consider dairying as a business. They must pay closer attention to details. A complete set of individual cow records is necessary. However, to be of any use, these records must be used in planning the milking business. The best records are of no help to the farmer unless they are used.

Cows must have better care. They must be protected from winter rains and winds. Cows need shade and plenty of fresh water in the summer time. They must be protected from flies and other external and internal parasites.

Good pastures and top quality hay and silage are a must if dairy business is going to be successful.

PUBLIC NOTICE

A public hearing will be held at the Administration Building at the Crystal Springs Branch Experiment Station August 13 at 2 p. m. to hear any protests against prohibiting the transportation or sale of out-of-state grown tomato plants or seedlings in Mississippi.

Any person interested in protesting such action by the State Plant Board is urged to be present in person at the hearing.

The action of the Plant Board is being taken because "late blight," a serious disease of tomatoes was introduced into Mississippi this year through the sale of South Florida grown tomato plants.

FARM SAFETY

Farm safety week is over, but the need for safe living is never over. Make safety your watchword. Remember, the hot weather normally lasts a couple of months longer. Take it easy and avoid heat exhaustion or sunstroke. Both of these are extremely dangerous.

COLLEGE HAS NEW UNIT

A new greenhouse for entomological research is nearing completion behind the Biology Building at Mississippi State College. The building is constructed of galvanized steel, aluminum and glass. This is a new type of greenhouse construction and only one other of this kind has been built in the South, according to Dr. Ross E. Hutchins, Experiment Station entomologist.

The new greenhouse more than doubles the area available for experimentation. Further tests will be made on the effect of insects on plants such as cotton and corn and the effectiveness of insecticides in controlling them.

CIRCULATION CONTEST SUCCESSFUL

A very successful circulation contest has been concluded for the Hancock County Eagle under the direction of Royce and Era Crow of Liner Circulation Service.

The winning contestant, Barbara Ann Villere, earned the coveted automobile prize. Horatio Farve received the second place award of $750 and all of the contestants won prize money in proportion to their efforts. The Hancock County Eagle gained greatly in circulation and in its potential usefulness to the community.

That the contest was conducted smoothly and with a fine spirit among all the contestants was due largely to the efforts of Royce and Era Crow, the contest editors.

Mr. and Mrs. Crow have conducted contests in nearly every state in the Union. They have conducted these contests for a period of over 10 years and have earned the esteem of numerous publishers and hundreds of contestants.

The contest is in the best American tradition. Competition is the lifeblood of our individual enterprise system and the type of activity which Mr. and Mrs. Crow have brought to many communities throughout America is the kind of activity that makes America hum.

Chrysler Sales Up

Contrary to usual industry sales patterns retail Chrysler sales for the last 10 days of July were up 13.5 per cent over the second 10-day period in July, reports E. M. Braden, general sales manager, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

Overall July retail deliveries of Chrysler cars exceeded June deliveries by 6.1 per cent.

"We began July with a record 10-day delivery period which continued a trend upward begun in June," Braden said. "Our business upswing results from hard selling on the part of our dealers who have been greatly assisted by our expanded field sales force," Braden said that Chrysler now has orders from dealers for every 1954 model remaining to be built.

"Many of our dealers underestimated their sales needs and as a result our sales improvement plus the recent wildcat strike have found themselves short of some models," Braden said.

"In some cases local dealers have chosen one of their group to act as an information clearing house to help them exchange cars to meet customer demand."

THIS WEEK IN Farm Bureau

Funds Now Available For Operating Loans For Hancock Farmers

Funds are now available for operating loans to family type farmers through the Farmers Home Administration, according to Hancock County FFA Supervisor Burrl. These loans can be made to eligible operators of family type farms. The main purpose is to enable farmers to make adjustments and improvements in their farm and home plans which will result in efficient farm and home operations.

Burrl said that loans may be made to buy livestock farm machinery, home equipment, feed, seed, lime and fertilizer. Under certain conditions.

funds may be included in the loan to refinance debts secured by liens on livestock and farm equipment.

The amount of the loan depends upon the need as determined by the farmer's plan of operation, Burrl said. Loans can be made to run from one to seven years. The number of years allowed for repayment depends upon the amount of income expected each year and the purpose for which the money is advanced.

Applications for operating loans should be made to the Farmers Home Administration office located at Agricultural Center Building, Necesses Ave., Bay St. Louis, Mississippi.

FORESTER MAY BE FIRST WITH DEGREE

A forester from Columbus probably will be the first to get a professional degree from Mississippi State's new school of forestry, Daniel L. Williams Jr. was the first to enroll in the new school, reported Robert T. Clapp, head of the forestry department. Since Williams already holds a bachelor of science from Mississippi State with a major in agricultural forestry, he will need only one year to complete requirements for the new degree.

A. &amp; I. BOARD REPORT SHOWS PROGRESS MADE IN PAST DECADE

Mississippi has outstripped the rest of the nation in economic gains in a half-century department in the past decade, a 10-year report of the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board shows.

During the period covered in the report, which marks the tenth anniversary of the Board's program to balance agriculture with industry, Mississippi has made tremendous strides industrially, agriculturally and in attractive tourist business.

Per capita income, for instance, has jumped 234 per cent, manufacturing product sales have climbed 506 per cent, business volume is up 368 per cent, bank deposits show a 226 per cent gain, cash farm income climbed 125 per cent, livestock production has climbed steadily by 162 per cent, tourist business is up 171 per cent, manufacturing wages have risen by 96 per cent, and effective buying income has soared for a 72 per cent increase.

Industrial Development
Under Mississippi's now famous BAWI law a total of 91 new community financed industrial buildings have been established, and a score of other existing BAWI financed plants have undergone major expansion programs.

In addition to BAWI plants, a total of 247 privately financed manufacturing firms have started operations, and manufacturing employment today is near the 100,000 mark.

Industries which have been attracted to Mississippi under the BAWI law during the past 10 years have contributed through payroll alone a total of approximately $300,000,000 which if added over a normal four times could amount to $1,200,000,000, the sales tax from this alone could have contributed at least $24,000,000, or more than 23 times the total $1,115,000 appropriated during the 10 years to carry out the manifold activities of the Board since it was established.

Industrial Promotion
In its efforts to develop new industries, the Board not only has worked closely with local communities, but has waged a highly effective national advertising and publicity campaign which has been followed up with direct mail and personal contact trips to every major industrial area of the nation have been made by the governor, the director, members of his staff and by members of the Agricultural and Industrial Board.

Representatives of various other private, area or local organizations have made similar trips at their own expense to help carry Mississippi's story to the people of the nation. These groups have represented utilities, railroads, chambers of commerce and area associations.

Special emphasis has been placed on such projects as the Import-Export Conference in Jackson, establishment of a New York Information Office, operation of an industrial display in the International Trade Mart in New Orleans, conducting of Small Business Development Clinics, and through various other displays prepared for use at fairs, expositions and conventions throughout the nation.

Agricultural Development
The Board has in the decade just past worked closely with all agricultural interests to help develop the farm output and to improve the state's agricultural economy.

The Central Farmers Market, sponsored by the Board, has been in operation for five years and has resulted in a better standardization of products, improved market facilities for farmers, and even in the establishment of a poultry processing plant on the market site in Jackson.

The Board has worked with the State Experiment Stations and the State Extension Service. One particular project in which the Board had a part was the tomato test crop which proved that Mississippi tomatoes make fine catsup.

As a result of a study made by the engineering and research department of the Board, an anhydrous ammonia plant was established at Yazoo City under provisions of the BAWI law.

The Board has been especially interested in the livestock and poultry industry and has encouraged the location of industries which would process such products.

An extensive program of advertising in trade publications, radio, by processors, plus use of effective publicity, has helped to spur this phase of the Board's efforts to balance agriculture with industry.

As a result, Mississippi has secured valuable free publicity calling attention to the agricultural opportunities. Cash farm income has risen sharply, livestock and poultry production has climbed, and a diversified agricultural economy is being effected.

Tourist Business
Mississippi's tourist business is rapidly becoming one of its biggest money makers. When the A. & I. Board was established in 1944, the state was realizing $39,342,000 from this source. In 1953, tourists entering the state dropped an estimated $271,000,000 into cash registers from the Tennessee line to the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

The Board today receives close to 70,000 tourist inquiries annually, and is conducting a publicity program which is conducted in newspapers and magazines throughout the nation.

To help keep the interest in tourist alive, the Board has in the last decade prepared and designed to create a desire on the part of vacationers to visit Mississippi.

To further keep this news before the public, the Board's Travel Department has conducted annual tours for editors of national magazines and newspapers, has participated in innumerable travel shows throughout the nation which have been attended by an estimated 2,000,000 persons, and has provided scores of convention meetings with appropriate displays.

"Miss Hospitality" represents a series of literature designed to sell the state's tourist attractions. The important phase of the Board's activities has been the annual "Hospitality Month" observance designed to arouse the interest of Mississippi communities to the value of this business and to encourage them to develop their natural attractions and facilities to reap greater harvests through visitors.

In these efforts, the Board has received the excellent cooperation of numerous organizations, including the Mississippi Press Association, the Municipal Officers Association, the Mississippi Outdoor Advertising Association, the Mississippi Theatre Owners Association, the Mississippi Broadcasters Association, and the various local chambers of commerce.

Victory Day 1954

This year August 15 will again be proclaimed a National Holiday, a day to celebrate the momentous victory which had been won by America and her allies in WW2.

Americans were hopeful that this would prove to be the final victory. How naive we were!

Into discard and mothballs went our machines of war. Again we were unarmed and again aggression broke out. Came the Korean action and again Americans bled and died—died because we were not equipped to fight. Again Americans were forced to fight with guts instead of guns.

Yes, and again we gained a sort of a Victory.

Is there such a thing as Victory, a final Victory? Can there be a Peace, a lasting Peace? Yes, there can be a lasting peace as long as America stays prepared for war.

With a well-trained, well-equipped war machine could America refrain from becoming the aggressor? Could not evil, designing men seize control and use this war machine to make America the aggressor? Thus, being prepared to enforce the Peace can be a dangerous thing.

What can be done? Where can we turn? To whom can we turn?

The answers to those questions are the solution to all of our problems. Get ready and stay ready to fight to preserve the Peace, and turn to God. Under God this Nation was founded. Under God it has been preserved. Under God it has prospered.

Let us return to the Faith of our Fathers with His guidance we can maintain a war machine that will preserve the Peace. He will guide us from being the aggressors and keep us to be His peace-makers.

Let us all make this Victory Day of 1954 the day to re-affirm our faith in God and America. Let this be the Day when we stop giving lip service and all of us stop saying and start doing.

With a strong country and a strong faith in God we can have a lasting Peace and a final, total Victory.

Airborne Platoon of Mississippi Men Being Formed

The Airborne soldier of today is a city from the paratrooper of World War II. The men who made history in North Africa, Sicily, Europe, New Guinea, the Philippines and at Corregidor were essentially riflemen and attackmen, whose primary mission was taking and holding ground until relieved by other units.

The modern Airborne Division, however, is as fully equipped as any other unit in the Army. It has a large quota of technicians of every sort, engineers, radio and telephone operators and repairmen, supply personnel and many others. Skilled technicians are needed for these key positions and the Army will train qualified young men who want to learn a trade and, at the same time, the extra pay earned by an Airborne soldier.

Composed entirely of volunteers, an Airborne Division is the most closely knit and proudest unit in today's army, and the man who can qualify for his paratrooper's wings has the satisfaction of knowing that he is a member of the finest unit of the World's finest Army, the Airborne.

And now qualified young men of Mississippi are being offered a special chance to become a member of the Airborne. A Buddy Platoon of Mississippians who will train and serve together is being enlisted this month by the United States Army Recruiting Service in Mississippi, and a few vacancies are open. If you can meet the rigid standards required for Airborne duty, see your Army Recruiting Sergeant now at the American Legion Building in Gulfport or meet him any Friday at the Hancock County Court house in Bay St. Louis.

Re-Elect D. M. Russell, Sr. Chancery Judge

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF EIGHTH CHANCERY COURT DISTRICT

On June 9, 1954, I made formal announcement of my candidacy for re-election, for another term, as Judge of the Chancery Court District composed of Harrison, Hancock and Stone counties.

It was stated in the announcement that, on account of court terms to be held in each county preceding the election, and almost daily hearings of matters in vacation, it would not be possible for me to make an active campaign in the district, and that I would have to depend largely upon the general knowledge of my record as a private citizen and public official along with publications through the press and cooperation of friends in the campaign.

I shall not have opportunity during the short time that remains to engage in extensive personal visitations among the voters before August 24; but I shall continue the use of the public press and the mails and my friends to carry my candidacy to the public, for its judgment, first as to whether I have been faithful and efficient in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities which they have conferred upon me during these past 25 years as their Chancellor; and whether they believe that I am worthy to be entrusted in that capacity for another term.

I am not assuming that the qualified electors of this district are interested in any personal ambition that I, or any other candidate, may have to be elected Chancery Judge, or any other public officer for that matter; your only interest being in the all-important question, who is best qualified by character, attitude, training and ability to render the best service in behalf of the entire public?

Our courts of justice constitute one of the greatest assets of any community. They take their place along with those other two great institutions, namely, the church and the public schools. Every good citizen wants, and is entitled to have, such court in his community as he may safely trust with the most important interests of himself, his family and his neighbors. A court of which no good citizen need be ashamed or afraid.

Soliciting your continued support, I am

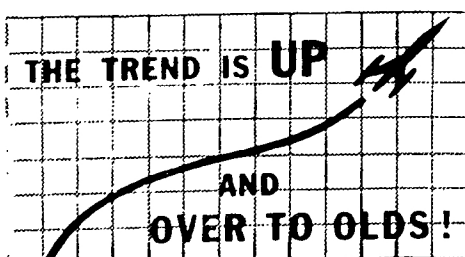

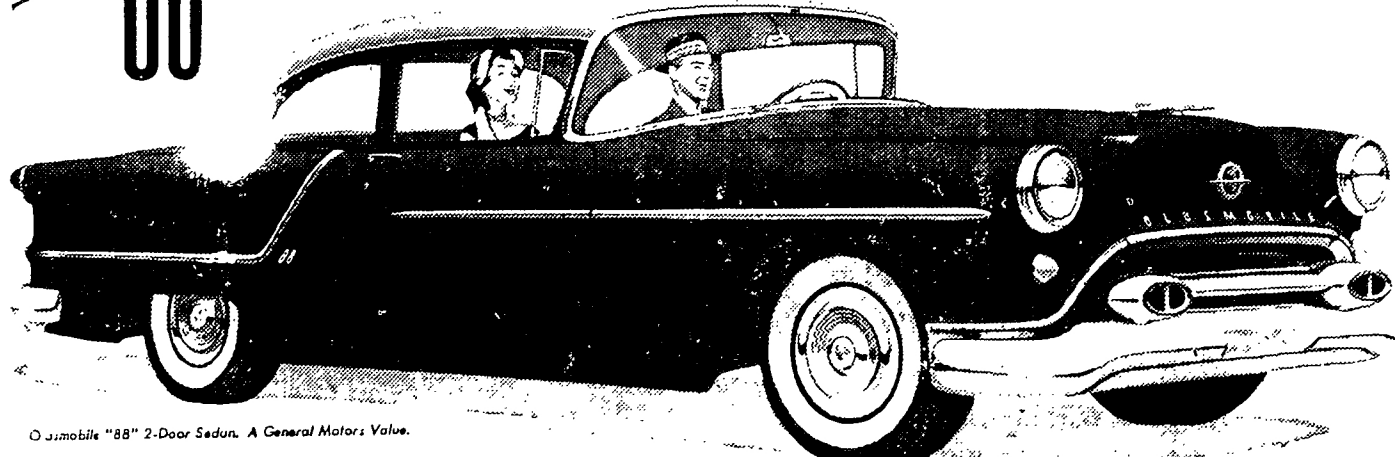

Yours faithfully,

D. M. RUSSELL, Sr.

UNITED GAS NAMES NEW DISTRICT MANAGER FOR PRODUCTION, TRANSMISSION PROPERTIES

Hearin Will Direct Work In Three States

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Announcement of the promotion of two Jackson, Miss., men in the United Gas organization was made here today by N. C. McGowan, president of United Gas Corporation.

J. D. Davis, Jackson district manager of United Gas Pipe Line Company and Union Producing Company, pipe line and production subsidiary companies of United Gas, has been appointed to the position of superintendent of the western pipe line division of United Gas Pipe Line Company at the general office in Shreveport.

R. M. Hearin, assistant Jackson district manager, will advance to the position of district manager to succeed Davis.

Davis joined a predecessor company in 1924. In 1932, he was transferred to Jackson to become district pipe line superintendent at that place. He was promoted to the position of Jackson district manager of United Gas Pipe Line Company and Union Producing Company in 1949, which position he has held continuously until his present advancement to the Shreveport general office.

Davis was born at Teague, Texas. He attended the University of Texas. Davis is well known in Jackson and throughout Mississippi. He has been active in various civic and fraternal organizations and programs. He is a past president of the Jackson Lions Club.

Among the local and state organizations and activities with which Davis is prominently identified are: Member of the State I-H Advisory Committee, the Mississippi Economic Council, Board of Directors of the Jackson Chamber of Commerce, and Board of Trustees of the United Givers Fund. He is also a member of the Executive Committee of the United Gas Pipe Line Company.

SHIPWRECK PARTY, BEAUTY CONTEST HIGHLIGHT YACHT CLUB FESTIVITIES

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Wagner Jr. at the Bay Waveland Yacht Club Shipwreck Party Saturday night.

Directed in a hotel bearing the name of the late John D. Wagner, was awarded first prize for ladies and Walter Rausch, draped in a Jib sail from a boat received the first place award for men at the annual shipwreck party staged Saturday night at the Bay Waveland Yacht Club.

Many ingenious costumes were devised by the merry group present and it was a difficult task for the judges to make decisions. Originality gained the edge for the winners.

Sunday the club house and grounds were crowded with several hundred members and guests for the fun and beauty contest held in conjunction with the dedication of the new swimming pool for small children.

The dedication service was opened with an address and prayer by the Rev. Charles Johnson followed by an address by Walter Gex Jr.

In his address, Gex gave a brief resume of the activities of the club since its inception and had particular stress on the important part played by the Ladies Auxiliary in obtaining many assets for the clubhouse. The swimming pool was built with funds raised by members of the Ladies Auxiliary.

Over three hundred turkey lunches were served, and home made cakes and candy were sold. Games were provided for adults and children.

Miss Patsy Shadon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shadon, was judged the winner in the beauty contest. Selection was made by three judges, Harry Hatdin, William Richardson Sr. and Richard Sattler. Patsy was crowned Miss Bay Waveland Yacht Club and presented with a loving cup and an armful of roses. She will compete in Labor Day in the contest which will be staged in Biloxi following the Tipton Cup Regatta.

Lt. and Mrs. Phil Kergoson spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kergoson. Lt. Kergoson, formerly stationed in Houston, Texas, has been transferred to Keesler field, and will be there for the coming eight months.

Thomas McCabe Dies August 2

Thomas Manuel McCabe, brother of Mrs. Anthony Benvenutti of Bay St. Louis, died Aug. 2 at his home in New Orleans. He was buried from Laudermeier Funeral Home, with religious services from Our Lady of the Most Holy Rosary Church. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery New Orleans. He was survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary Bonnard McCabe and two daughters, Mrs. Louis Moreau and Mrs. Norman Macalusa. In addition to Mr. Benvenutti he had one other sister, Mrs. Grace Alexander, and three grandchildren.

Former Resident Dies In N. O.

George Rawlins, wife by a first marriage of the late John Dunning, and by a second marriage of the late Capt. John Pears, died Sunday, August 1 in New Orleans. She was the mother of Mrs. Lawrence Linc and a former resident of Bay St. Louis.

In addition to her daughter she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. O. J. Foxhall and Mrs. Edna E. Crozat of New Orleans.

Funeral services were held from the funeral parlors of Tharp-Sunheimer-Tharp, with religious services from the Holy Name of Jesus Church. The body was interred in Lafayette Cemetery 1, New Orleans.

ARKANSAS PLACES MARKER TO SONS WHO WORE GRAY

Arkansas' Confederate dead, "a part of a nation divided by the sword and reunited at the altar of faith," were honored last week at ceremonies in the Vicksburg National Military Park. The occasion was the dedication of the Arkansas memorial in the Vicksburg park honoring soldiers and sailors from that state who died in the battle of Vicksburg.

Two To Legion Convention In Washington D.C.

Two delegates representing the Clement R. Boncompagni Post 1109 at the National American Legion Convention late in August at Washington, D. C. this week were Andy J. Becker and Walter James Phillips, according to a statement by Commander Bourgeois.

The all transportation expense paid trip was awarded to the local Post for winning the award of being one of the most active Posts in Mississippi. The State Legion Department is paying expenses for these delegates to Jacksonville, D. C. for two delegates from the Post. The local Post is paying expenses for these delegates to Jackson and also paying for housing for these delegates at the National Convention Bourgeois said.

Rural Communications to fit Mississippi's needs

With a smaller than ever farm population, Mississippi farms are yielding better crops than at any time in the state's history. That is due mainly to mechanization, improved farming methods, and better means of communication.

The telephone, for instance, is helping to keep more and more of our farm people better informed about markets and methods. They use it daily to order supplies, to summon help when it's needed in a hurry, or simply to keep abreast of news of family and friends.

Today, over 45,000 farm families and businesses in Mississippi are served by Southern Bell. Approximately 34 of these rural telephones were installed in the last 8 years, climaxed by last year's record installation of over 5,000 rural telephones in Mississippi.

To get investors to supply the money to continue expanding and improving Mississippi's telephone service requires a fair profit on the money invested in telephone property.

How investment for each additional telephone has increased:

1953 $567

MISSISSIPPI HONORED

There was just cause for the smiles on the faces of Mississippians in Washington last week. Boys' Nation and Girls' Nation, in that order, held their conventions in the Nation's Capital. Practically all of the States were represented by outstanding boys and girls. Edward Perry, was selected as the President of Boys' Nation and another boy from Mississippi, Pat

"take over" the Government for a brief period.

A President, Vice President, a Cabinet, a President of the Senate, a Speaker of the House and in fact all of the main positions in Government were elected from the cream of the crop from the several States of the Union.

When that convention was over, the Washington papers headlined the fact that a charming Mississippi girl, Miss Jodylyn Ross of Meridian, Mississippi, was selected as President of that organization.

Thus Mississippi, often referred to as one of the backward States of the Union, a producer of cotton, corn and other agricultural products, demonstrated that Mississippi's truly great crop is its crop of splendid young men and women.

Walker, was selected as Secretary of State.

This was a great honor for these Mississippi boys and for Mississippi. But, hardly had the boys surrendered the government back to President Eisenhower and the regular officials when the Girls' Nation took over.

But Mississippi was not through. When that convention was over, the Washington papers headlined the fact that a charming Mississippi girl, Miss Jodylyn Ross of Meridian, Mississippi, was selected as President of that organization.

Thus Mississippi, often referred to as one of the backward States of the Union, a producer of cotton, corn and other agricultural products, demonstrated that Mississippi's truly great crop is its crop of splendid young men and women.

To say the least, the fact that young Mississippians captured both positions is unusual. No State ever has had this distinction before. It is doubtful that any State will ever do it again.

ADJOURNMENT

It would now appear that the long delayed and deferred adjournment of Congress is in sight. Most of the important legislation has either passed both houses of Congress or is in process of being adjusted in conference between the two bodies.

All of the money bills have passed both Houses. The omnibus public works bill, the Atomic Energy bill, the farm bill, the foreign aid bill, and a number of others are being worked out in conferences after having passed both houses.

A number of other bills of importance to our section are yet to be passed upon by the Senate. Among these is the so-called hardboard bill which we are sponsoring along with others in the House to give relief to the hardboard industry, including Masonite, which has been suffering from "dumping" by foreign nations. Another bill of importance to our section is the so-called water bill which it is hoped will be of great assistance to South Mississippi farmers, permitting them to combat long droughts by irrigation. It has passed both houses of Congress.

At this time, the Federal Pay Bill, including a hike for postal and other Federal employees, is receiving attention from both House and Senate.

It is expected that all of these important matters will be disposed of within the coming week and that the House members at least will be able to return to their respective districts even though the Senate may be required to stay on because of the long drawn out McCarthy issue.

Personally, we have felt that in view of these and other important matters that our duty was here.

TREE "WEEDING"
FUNDS AVAILABLE

According to information DeSilva received from State Administrative Officer Tom M. Patterson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, farmers and other private timberland owners will be allowed an assistance payment of up to $4.00 per acre, but not to exceed 50% of actual average cost of "weeding" inferior species and cull trees from their timberlands. De Silva pointed out that there are approximately 7 million acres of timber lands in Mississippi in urgent need of this type of treatment if these lands are to reach their maximum production and make their proper contribution to the supply of timber products for future manufacture in the State.

Mississippi Wildlife
Federation to Meet

The Mississippi Wildlife Federation, which is composed of many state hunting and fishing clubs and leagues in Mississippi, will hold their annual meeting in Clarksdale, Miss. October 27 as announced in Jackson by Dr. Joseph E. Patus, president.

The Mississippi Wildlife Federation has been doing a wonderful job in the field of conservation of wildlife and fish, and has members in every county in the state. This organization has participated in all phases of game and fish conservation, giving prizes to boys and girls throughout the state on work of this nature.

In the Spring this year a Clean Water Essay Contest went out to all of the schools in the state and was met with a great deal of enthusiasm by the young students competing for a total of $1120 in prize money.

The Cushman County Conservation League in Clarksdale, with Sam Abraham as president, will be in charge of the meeting of delegates. Dignitaries from Washington and surrounding states will be on the program. Hotel and other accommodations are being arranged for a very large attendance at this annual meeting.

SENIORS END SEASON WITH
8 - 7 RECORD

The Bay Seniors today ended their 1954 baseball season with an 8-7 record. After the season had just begun the Seniors joined the Hancock County Baseball association, along with four other teams in this area.

This was the Seniors' second season of baseball. Last year they sported a 7-1 record, losing only to the Bay Bourbons by way of D. J. Luc's no-hitter.

Only four players completed both the 1953 and 1954 season with the Seniors: Christopher Bell (.325-.378), Bobby Ladner (.294-.225), Ronnie Maurigi (.185) and Manuel Maurigi (.000). Last year the team as a group batted .208 and this year .217.

Highlights of last year were when the Bay Seniors defeated the Bay Bourbons 6-0, collecting 4 hits off D. J. Luc and Billy Scarborough and when they rallied for five runs in the last inning to top Pass Christian 12-10.

This year Charles Tartavouille stole the Senior spotlight as twice he fanned 18 Kiln batters in seven innings contests and threw in a no-hitter, too.

The Seniors last the services of Tartavouille Billy Taylor and Clayton Scarborough and Alton Perelli joined Adam in early June, but later Billy to give the team a boost.

PASS SCOUTS
THIS SUNDAY

This Sunday the Kiln Youth Center will play host to the Pass Christian Sea Scouts.

This will be the second meeting of the two teams. Last game the Kiln squad edged the Pass 8-5 in two extra innings at the Pass Ball Park.

In the 2:30 tilt at the Youth Center field the Youth Center has not announced their starting pitcher out of their staff of Russell Mitchell, Larry Ladner, Royce Shiyout and Billy Ladner.

For the Sea Scouts it will be J. C. Naciso, with a 2-2 record.

Gulf Coast Citizens APPRECIATE

SENATOR
JIM EASTLAND

When disaster struck the Gulf Coast in the form of the great hurricane, Senator Eastland flew to the scene and made quick contacts in Washington—working with Gulf Coast representatives—to have the area placed under "emergency status." He was largely responsible for securing prompt government assistance, in both funds and personnel. During the period of rehabilitation, Senator Eastland kept close contact with Coast officials in helping out with their problems.

★ Senator Eastland was largely responsible for securing approval of the great seawall and sand beach project, and obtained from the President—in cooperation with others in Congress—a directive to "unfreeze" construction during the Korean conflict so the great project could be completed. It was one of only three public works programs in the United States which were permitted to proceed during the war emergency.

★ The seafood industry appreciates Senator Eastland because he worked with others to get the Oregon assigned to the Gulf of Mexico to do fishery research to locate new fishing beds for fishermen. He was joint author of a bill which permitted Section 32 funds to be allocated for fishery research.

★ Senator Eastland worked with Coast officials in the various problems which arose after Keesler Field was established. He is working on a new federal building for Biloxi, and it will be built in the near future. He also is working now on a deep channel project for Pascagoula.

★ There are few places in the United States where there are as many complex problems involving the Federal Government as on the Gulf Coast. The Federal Government has a tremendous investment in military installations, in shipyard contracts, in Coast Guard services, and in the entire seafood industry. It is important to the Coast to have a Senator like Jim Eastland who KNOWS their problems and how to help solve them. Senator Eastland has fully cooperated in the past—he will continue to do so in the future. It can be truthfully said that the Mississippi Gulf Coast area has more problems involving Washington than the State capital. That's why the Coast is vitally interested in strong representation in Washington.

★ Senator Eastland fought for price supports on tung oil and has worked faithfully to help develop this industry.

Keep Jim On the Job In Washington
RE-ELECT EASTLAND AUGUST 24

WAVELAND WANDERINGS

BY GEORGETTE HALL

Congratulations to Miss Barbara Ann Villere, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Villere, who won the beautiful 1954 Ford given away as first prize in the Hancock County Eagle subscription contest. This lucky young lady was awarded her prize Saturday afternoon after the final votes were tallied. Barbara Ann worked hard to come out on top and she deserves a word of commendation for her interest and time. Waveland is mighty proud when its young people can show such achievement.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Yarbrough are the proud parents of their second child, a son, born to them this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Russell and family had as guests Sunday Mrs. Russell's sister, Mrs. Lillian Boyd, as well as her niece, Mrs. Helen Chay and children, Dottie Ann and Patsey.

PFC Ronald Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Russell who is stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga., enjoyed a week's vacation with his parents in Waveland.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rose on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hart of New Orleans. The Harts were accompanied by their children, Terry and Lay.

A. J. Ruppel, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ruppel, his wife and daughters, Lady Lynn and Miriam Sue, of New Orleans, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ruppel this week end. Mr. Ruppel left shortly after for Mexico where he is employed by the South Fisheries. His family returned to New Orleans.

Young Michael Ruppel III has returned to the home of his parents in New Orleans after spending a pleasant visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Ruppel.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gipson on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Packer, Mr. and Mrs. John Huff and daughter, Mylene, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Celino of New Orleans. Other guests of the Gipsons this week were Mr. and Mrs. H. McCall and son, Tommy of Pontchartroula, La. The Gipson cottages have provided pleasant vacation spots to several families this summer. Among the folks who have spent vacations there

TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES TO HAVE NEW LOOK AS DESIGN CHANGES

Beginning early this fall, an American Bell Telephone Directory will take on a new look as the firm that covers the telephone directories will be changed also. The Bell symbol, now occupying the center of the back, will be replaced by an outline map of the United States, with the accent on the nine Southern States served by Southern Bell, and another drawing of a young lady using long-distance facilities.

These changes follow approximately 18 years of continuous use of all Southern Bell directories. The cover of the familiar yellow cover with a band of light blue and gold shift in his left hand while the right hand holds a telephone.

Actually, the Spirit of Communication emblem has been part of the telephone picture for approximately half the lifetime of the telephone itself. The emblem of the drawing used on the telephone directory covers since 1910 and a 24 foot high bronze statue which was placed on the top of the headquarters building of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company building at 195 Broadway in New York City upon its completion in 1910.

Telephone people call the emblem "Elec", but to its originator, the famous sculptress Evelyn Butler Longman, it symbolizes the center of electricity and its speed as a messenger.

But why is this familiar figure which has adorned directory covers for so many years giving up its familiar position to Mr. and Mrs. Southern Bell representative presents at this way.

It's to make way for the new design about telephone service that will keep telephone customers informed of new developments and our current conditions in the telephone industry. For one thing the conditions which existed throughout World War II and for some time after wards placed limitations on long distance telephone service which no longer exist. During that time military communications were so heavy that even though more and more circuits were being added civilian use of these lines was subject to restrictions and delays. Excise taxes were placed on the use of the government specifically to discourage civilian use of long distance telephone facilities essential to military activities.

The excise taxes have just been reduced from 25 to 10 percent on most long distance calls and in addition telephone facilities of all kinds have been greatly expanded

Excise taxes were placed on the use of the government specifically to discourage civilian use of long distance telephone facilities essential to military activities.

The excise taxes have just been reduced from 25 to 10 percent on most long distance calls and in addition telephone facilities of all kinds have been greatly expanded

Cast Enthusiastic About Little Theatre Production of 'Jane'

Enthusiasm in the cast of "Jane," the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's next production, is accelerating as time draws near for curtain call.

"Jane," a sophisticated comedy with an English setting, was written by S. N. Behrman, one of the better known script writers of the day, and based on an original story by Somerset Maugham. One can be certain that "Jane" has to do with a dowdy, middle-aged widow of considerable wealth who has been divorced. She is a Londoner, her aristocratic relatives in London by announcing her forthcoming marriage to an impetuous architect twenty years her junior. What this unorthodox union does to Jane sets the tempo for the vehicle and highlights the theme. The surprise comes in the third act when Jane blantly accuses the course she will follow in securing her domestic future.

The play, besides being brilliantly written, has in its cast a group of players that do every bit of justice to such a high standard of entertainment. One cannot afford to miss this enthralling comedy.

Juanita Miller, well known to local audiences, heads the cast as "Jane." Supporting her are Phillip Allison, Mrs. Phillip Foute, Dr. Harold Keefe and Joe Viguerie. Karen Kergosien and David Treutel do small roles in a big way and Clea Kay Miller rounds out the cast as the maid.

The production is under the supervision of Barbara Quigley, who is doing an excellent job in her new forte.

The play opens on Friday, August 20th for a two-night performance, with curtain call at 8:15 and is open to the public. The theatre will be air-conditioned for the comfort of its patrons.

Mrs. Vicki Hill will give a talk of interest on the play over station WLOX, 1100, in Buena Vista Hotel Thursday, August 19 at 9:05 a.m.

SPIDERS HURTING COTTON

A sudden outbreak of red spider mite infestation that is costing Lee County cotton farmers money, was reported by Harry Martin, associate county agent.

Martin said the red spider can be controlled and inspections for infestations should be made of cotton fields at one. The mite damages the leaves, cutting off nourishment to the top of the cotton plant. The leaves turn yellow or rusty, then fall off.

If signs of infestation are found farmers should contact insecticide dealers and ask for poison that will control the mites, he said.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Grunz are building a new home on St. Anthony Street.

Mrs. Alma Slade is building a new home in Meadow Lane.

Spending the weekend at "Cricket" Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spinato and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carver and children, Lois and Harold Jr. of New Orleans, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Stelf on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Stone and daughters, Jesse and Ella of Mobile, Ala. were Friday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carver.

Mr. and Mrs. John Huff of New Orleans have purchased a lot on Sears Ave. and will build there soon.

Years truly had the pleasure of hearing himself on the radio Monday evening on the Personalities and the News Program presented by WSMB in New Orleans. The tape recording was made in the radio studio Friday afternoon when I was interviewed by Ray Menard, one of the staff announcers. I'm most grateful to him and to WSMB for all the nice things that were said about my novel "House on Rampart Street."

Lt. Gov. CARROLL GARTIN The Veterans' Candidate

Leading The Race For U. S. SENATOR

Here's Why The Veterans
Are Lining Up Behind

CARROLL GARTIN...

The veterans are among the more civic conscious of our citizens. They promote good government. They work for general prosperity. They fight communism. They think in terms of the general welfare. Because they know that the election of Carroll Gartin as U. S. Senator will be to the advantage of all the people of Mississippi, they are backing him in his campaign for U. S. Senator.

The veterans know they can depend on Carroll Gartin. They know him as a man of action because he is one of them. The veterans know that only another veteran can completely and fully appreciate the problems of ex-servicemen. And Carroll Gartin is a veteran of 5 years service in the United States Army. As Lieutenant Governor, he has worked for legislation to benefit the veterans of Mississippi. As U. S. Senator he will work for all the veterans of the United States.

The veterans are for Carroll Gartin because they liked what they heard when he said:

"I will work to obtain better hospital facilities and more liberal pension benefits for the veterans of all wars. I shall try to get established in the U. S. Senate a veterans affairs committee to devote full time to the problems of ex-servicemen. I favor more liberal pension benefits for the widows and war orphans. Legislation to continue the veterans preference act to help ex-servicemen obtain employment will have my support. And I will work for Legislation to help the thinning ranks of veterans of the first world war whose problems become more acute with each passing year."

That's why the veterans are supporting Carroll Gartin. They know he knows their problems. He talks their language. He will make the total fight in their behalf. They know that he will be on the job full time to protect their interests. That's why they are joining hands with the school teachers, the farmers, the business people, with the other thoughtful people of Mississippi to...
